Dear Mr. Baldwin:

Kindly read enclosed circular
"Conscript Profits"

Yesterday, in the office of Mr. James W.
Melrose, special agent for the Department of Justice, Mr. Melrose advised me to discontinue circulating these pamphlets.
He warned me: "Had my advice, or I will be advising you behind prison bars." He admitted "nothing wrong with the circular."

This example of Democracy was so pertinent that, I could not refrain from telling you about it. Sincerely,

Ben J. Salmon

"Enclosed find check to pay for 500 more circulars, 'Conscript Profits to Pay for the War.' Our boys very pleased with way the circular states facts and figures, and we are all with you to the last trench. Having drafted the workingman, now draft the wealth..."—W. T. Quinn, Secretary Miners' Union No.
144, Park City, Utah.

"Enclosed find money order for 800 more circulars. The boys believe we can distribute these with good results. You are proposing that Uncle Sam deal fair with both Labor and Capital"—E. G. Brandt, Financial Secretary Machinists' Union No. 233, Springfield, Mo.

"We decided to take more circulars at once. Enclosed find check for same. Our union is ready to help."—D. C.
Stahlman, Recording Secretary Carpenters' Union No. 992, Buhl, Idaho.

"Enclosed find check for more pamphlets. We wish you the best of success."— C. W. Bradley, Secretary Vallejo Trades and Labor Council, Vallejo, California. (This makes the third shipment to the Vallejo Trades and Labor Council.)

"Enclosed find check for more of your circulars containing letter to President Wilson. We believe this to be of the greatest importance."— W. L. Bradshaw, Recording Secretary Electrical Workers' Union No. 482, Tacoma, Washington.
