DENVER, COLO., March 4, 1918.

Mr. Roger N. Baldwin,
Director, National Civil Liberties Bureau,
70 Fifth Avenue,
New York City.

WHAT, when our time comes, does it matter whether we have fared dauntily or not, whether we have worn soft raiment or not, whether we leave a great fortune or nothing at all, whether we shall have reaped honors or been despised, have been counted learned or ignorant—as compared with how we may have used that talent which has been entrusted to us for the service? Well, all it matter, when eyeballs glaze and ears grow dull, if out of the darkness may stretch a hand, and into the silence may come a voice: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Social Problems.

Dear Mr. Baldwin:

thanks.

Received your kind letter of February 26th. Many will surely keep you in touch with developments.

Hearing on my motion for new trial will take place Tuesday, March 19th.

I have two of Colorado's ablest attorneys: Whitehead and Vogl. So far as legal ability counts, I am certain to fair the best possible.

Sincerely yours,

Ben J. Salmon

BJS/GC.

An enclosing copy of letter that I wrote President Wilson the day I registered. My stand on Questionnaire is merely a continuation of original position.
